In presenting the report for the past year, I have in the first place the painful duty of announcing the decease of the Director, Sir W. J. Hooker, on the 12th August, and I have to add, that on the 1st of November I was appointed as his successor. This is not the place, nor would it be fitting in me to dwell on the merits of my father: I must, however, claim the privilege of paying such a tribute to the memory of my predecessor, as has been unanimously felt to be due to him; viz., that, whether as the restorer of these gardens, who by his sagacity and energy raised them above all others in excellence, beauty, and utility,—or as the originator and founder of museums of economic botany,—or as the projector and able assistant of those efforts on the part of our Home and Colonial Governments that have led to the formation of botanical and horticultural establishments in so many of our colonies, in India and in our foreign possessions,—or as the liberal and disinterested patron of private scientific enterprise everywhere, and especially amongst the officers of the army, navy, and civil services, the late Director of Kew has won the esteem and gratitude of his countrymen, and left a name that will ever occupy one of the most prominent positions in the history of botanical science.

Various changes in the administration of the gardens consequent on the above having been determined upon by you, steps are now being taken to carry them into effect.

The office of Assistant Director has been suppressed, as the duties hitherto attached thereto can be more efficiently and economically performed by raising the position of the Curator, and that of the Keeper of the Herbarium and Library; and by transferring to the latter department the supervision of the museums, and the naming of the collections in these, and in the arboretum, plant-houses, and gardens generally.

1.—BOTANIC GARDENS.

A great and indeed rapid improvement is already visible, partly in consequence of changes in the staff of foremen and advanced gardeners, but mainly owing to the horticultural skill of the present Curator, especially in the orchid and fern collections, the palm-house, and in the most valuable and striking of all our collections, the cacti and other succulents.

More, however, remains to be done, especially in introducing types of the vegetation of Australia and South Africa, our old plants of which are worn out; in procuring more palms, orchids, and tree ferns; in raising a stock of useful plants for exchange; and in improving the lawns, flower-beds, and shrubberies, by introducing many new and uncommon ornamental plants.

The above-named improvements were in progress during the lifetime of the late Director, who personally superintended them up to within four days of his sudden decease: he was also actively engaged in arrangements for supplying the deficiencies alluded to.

The labelling of the plants, both common and rare, requires immediate attention. Their present unsatisfactory condition in this respect is due partly to the fact that the repotting of so vast vast a collection (containing, perhaps, 20,000 plants) involves the loss of some labels, and the displacement of many more; and very much to the want for many months of a good foreman for the lawns, arboretum, and shrubberies, the labels of the plants in this department being particularly liable to be removed by mowers, and by the public in traversing the grounds.

No alterations of any consequence have been introduced into the grounds, the time and attention of the Curator having been almost exclusively devoted to the collections in the houses; but many improvements have been introduced into the working of the details of the whole establishment, which it is not needful to specify.

A very important step taken this year has been the conversion of the old Victoria-house (No. 6) into an "Economic plant house," to be devoted henceforth to the display of a selected set of tropical plants, whose products are useful for food, or as drugs, or in the arts. The house itself being small, the specimens will be so also, and all will thus be brought within a moderate space. This will save the necessity on the part of visitors of searching through the large collections in the palm-house, &c. for what they most wish to find readily. The success of the Victoria Regia in the larger house built for it, renders it inexpedient to devote another to it.

Space is much wanted for the cultivation of more water-plants; and I would strongly recommend the heating of a small tank in the open air for this purpose, in which even tropical waterlilies may be made to flower freely.

In the palm-house the whole collection has been repotted and rearranged, and the house itself has been thoroughly set to rights in respect of order, cleanliness, and the cultivation of the plants, which are for the most part in excellent condition. Certain tropical plants that produce a striking effect from the size and vivid green of their foliage have been introduced into the beds between the palm-stems.

A small collection of Japan plants has been got together, and placed in a conspicuous position, in a frame near the heath-house (No. 14).

The collection of cacti, aloes, succulents, and bulbs, in No. 7, has been for the most part repotted and very greatly improved; and has also been materially increased, chiefly through the liberality of W. Wilson Saunders, F.R.S., whose almost annual contributions are both the most valuable and most numerous that this establishment has received since its foundation.

From India and the colonies most satisfactory accounts continue to be received of the progress of botany and horticulture under the various colonial botanists, and heads of botanic gardens, who have for the most part been sent out from Kew by the late Director, and who received liberal encouragement from the Governors and other authorities.

From Ceylon ripe seeds of cinchona officinalis have been sent to Kew by the able and energetic Director of the Royal Botanic Gardens. These we have transmitted at once to Jamaica and Trinidad, whilst others have been sent by Mr. Thwaites to the Mauritius, Cape of Good Hope, Queensland, and elsewhere. As the first-fruits of the introduction of the cinchona into our eastern possessions, this event marks an epoch in the history of the drug, and reflects great credit on the energetic manager of the plantations. By the same officer we are informed of the success of many ornamental and useful plants sent to him from Kew, and their distribution all over the island. In return we continue to receive from him most valuable collections of economic plants, ferns, and orchids.

In India proper, under the superintendence of Mr. McIvor, in the Neilgherries, Dr. Anderson at Calcutta, and Mr. Mann at Darjeeling, the cinchona plantations are being immensely extended, and the plants given out to cultivators; and I am informed that at Darjeeling there had been a sale of plants to the settlers, at 6d. each. It has been found that an infusion of the leaves is an excellent febrifuge, and it is hence much to be desired that this plant should be cultivated even in islands where its growth is not rapid, nor its propagation easy, and where its cultivation for bark is unprofitable, if only its foliage is produced in tolerable abundance; for no tropical locality in any quarter of the globe enjoys immunity from diseases for which the cinchona leaf may not afford a specific.

In Trinidad, Mr. Prestoe, who was last year sent from Kew to be superintendent of the botanic gardens there, has succeeded in cultivating the cinchona, and will doubtless meet with the same success in propagating it as has rewarded the efforts in India.

From the promising colony of Queensland, His Excellency Sir G. Bowen has communicated the important news that Mr. Walter Hill, Director of the Brisbane Botanic Gardens (who also went there from Kew), has discovered a magnificent well-watered tract of the richest agricultural land at Rockingham Bay, a salubrious district, and admirably suited for the cultivation of sugar, cotton, indigo, &c., and which the Governor has directed shall be retained for Government reserves. It is a singular fact, that for the discovery of the Liverpool Plains in New South Wales, and of their suitability for colonial purposes, that colony is indebted to another botanist, also sent out from Kew, the late Allan Cunningham. Mr. Hill's garden report for this year records the complete success at Brisbane of the coffee, cinnamon, mango, tamarind, cotton, allspice, ginger, indigo, and tobacco; also of the cinchona calisaya, sent from Kew. A library for this institution has, at the request of the Governor, been selected by the officers of the Herbarium at Kew, and several hundred volumes procured and sent out early this year.

From the Cape of Good Hope most valuable reports have been received from the Rev. Dr. Brown, Colonial Botanist, treating of the conservation of the forests of that colony, the destruction of which by fire has led to the sterility of large tracts of once well-watered land; and of the development of the agricultural resources and botanical riches of South Africa generally, and collateral subjects. The cultivation of the olive seems to promise to become of great importance in that colony, and I have been desired to procure and transmit the best kinds; for which purpose I have written to residents in the most productive districts of Spain, France, and Italy.

ASCENSION ISLAND.—Captain Barnard's excellent report gives a satisfactory account of the progress of the imported vegetation in this once sterile island, which we continue to supply with plants. It now possesses thickets of upwards of 40 kinds of trees, besides numerous shrubs and fruit trees, of which, however, only the guava ripens. These already afford timber for fencing cattle yards. I may mention, that when I visited the island in 1843, owing to the want of water, but one tree existed on it, and there were not enough vegetables produced to supply the Commandant's table, whereas now, through the introduction of vegetation, the water supply is excellent, and the garrison and ships visiting the island are supplied with abundance of vegetables of various kinds.

The most important plants distributed from the Royal Gardens have been cinchona seeds and plants to various colonies, &c., and the ipecacuanha to Trinidad, Ceylon, and Calcutta.

A most important introduction has been the calumba root from the Mauritius, a plant which it is proposed to cultivate in Ceylon and the West Indies, some eminent druggists having reported to us that the supply from East Africa is both scanty and bad; and that, owing to the condition of labour, &c. on the African coast, there is no prospect of an improvement.

Various applications for seeds of the best kinds of tobacco having been received, especially from Western Australia, through the kindness of Colonel Scott, R. E., we procured from Captain Smith, resident at the Court of Persia, an ample supply of fresh seed of the best Shiraz tobacco, which has been distributed to 30 or 40 colonies, &c.

Gardeners trained in the Royal Gardens have been selected by the late Director to fill the following important posts:—

The Curatorship of the Royal Botanic Gardens at Calcutta, under Dr. Anderson.

An assistant Conservatorship of cinchona forests at Darjeeling, under the same officer.

MUSEUMS.

Nothing new of any importance has taken place in this department. The specimens in No. I. have been rearranged and catalogued. The woods and timbers in No. III. have all been labelled, the great central timber trophy taken down and greatly improved, and many of the large specimens polished.

HERBARIUM, &c.

I have to announce the acquisition by this department of two of the most important private collections that existed anywhere in Europe, viz., Dr. Lindley's collection of orchids, by purchase; and the late Dr. Burchell's South African and South American herbarium, by gift from his sister (who is also since deceased). Dr. Lindley's collection of orchids is the key to the nomenclature of this vast and important family of plants; it was commenced when the first importation of them took place, and has been kept up by purchase and contribution from every quarter for nearly half a century, and will always be the standard of reference. It contains upwards of 3,000 specimens, in perfect condition, fastened upon cartridge paper, and copiously illustrated with sketches and dissections by Dr. Lindley's own hand, and from other sources.

Dr. Burchell, F.L.S., a most distinguished traveller, naturalist, and artist, was the author of "Travels in South Africa," who, besides exploring the districts of Algoa Bay and Graham's Town, first proposed their colonization to the Home Government. The object of his travels (which extended over 4,500 miles) was chiefly botanical, and throughout his many wanderings in South Africa and in the Brazils, he devoted the greater part of his time to collecting and noting the vegetation of the unexplored countries he visited. His collections, which are of immense extent, and in excellent preservation, are also of especial scientific interest on account of the systematic manner in which he noted the geographical area of every species he met with, and daily catalogued them in an index geographicus. His first collections were made made at St. Helena in 1810, and contain a number of plants peculiar to that singular oceanic spot, and which have never since been found, being now, no doubt, extinct. His South African travels extended nearly to the tropic, and occupied five years; they include 4,856 species and perhaps 12,000 ticketed specimens. In South America, in 1825, he entered the Brazils at Rio de Janeiro, and thence travelling northward, he traversed the entire length of that immense kingdom by a route previously followed by no European, and descending the Tocantins River to the Amazons, arrived at Para in 1830. His Brazilian collections amount to 11,765 distinct numbers and nearly 52,000 specimens. Dr. Burchell died in 1863, and left these treasures to his sister; she offered them to her brother's friend, the late Director, who, with your permission, accepted them for the Herbarium of the Royal Gardens. These two collections (Lindley's and Burchell's) would certainly have fetched a very large sum if they had gone into the market.

A very important Herbarium of Sandwich Island plants (560 species) has been presented by Dr. Hillebrand, of those islands.

Dr. Mueller continues to transmit his invaluable Australian Herbarium and notes for the purpose of assisting Mr. Bentham in the Australian Flora; together with specimens of all the recent discoveries made on that continent for our own Herbarium.

M. Naudin has sent a beautiful set of the cucurbitaceæ, cultivated by him in the Paris garden, &c.

The plants of Lieutenant Colonel Pelly's Arabian journey have been presented by that officer, and determined at Kew.

The principal works published in connection with the Herbarium and Library have been—

The second part of the Genera Plantarum, by Mr. Bentham and Dr. Hooker.

The third volume of Mr. Bentham's Flora Australiensis is nearly completed.

The third volume of Drs. Harvey and Senders' Flora Capensis is published, and the fourth in progress

A very valuable and laborious essay on the African Leguminosæ, by Mr. Bentham, has been published by the Linnæan Society.

The Flora of Tropical Africa is being prepared by Professor Oliver.

The botanists who have spent a considerable time at Kew for the purpose of studying in the Library and Herbarium, have been Professor Mettenius of Leipzig, publishing in ferns; Professor Baillon, of Paris; Dr. Triana, of New Granada; Dr. Seemann, F.L.S., in publishing his Flora Vitiensis; Dr. Thomson, F.R.S., studying Indian plants; Dr. Welwitsch, F.L.S., arranging, &c., his vast tropical African Herbarium; Professor Reichenbach, of Hamburg, studying Lindley's and other Orchidæ; Mr. Spruce, naming his Ecuador plants; Signor Beccari, preparing for a botanical exploration of Borneo; Dr. Masters, F.L.S., preparing the Malvaceæ for the Flora of Tropical Africa; M. Bocquillon, of Paris, studying Verbenaceæ; M. L. Marchand, Anacardiaceæ; Professor Schimper, of Strasburg, Mosses; General von Jacobi, of Berlin, Aloes, &c.; Mr. Moggridge Mantoni plants; Mr. Edgworth, Indian plants; Rev. W. Newbould, British plants; Rev. M. J. Berkeley, Mr. Miers, &c., sundries.

The number of donors, &c. to the Herbarium has been quite unprecedented this year, amounting to upwards of 80 persons and institutions; while the number of specimens that have been received (inclusive of Burchell's and Lindley's collections) are little short of 100,000 (97,973). Of this prodigious number, a great many are duplicates, not required to be kept; but fully 20,000 are being intercalated in the General Herbarium, whilst the remainder must be arranged and ticketed for distribution. I need not add that with the most untiring industry and energy, the officers of the Herbarium have been quite unable to overtake the current duties of the year, even with such temporary assistance as we have been able to obtain. I have, in this matter of assistance, to return especial thanks to M. Triana, of New Granada, for assistance during his visit to Kew, in arranging Burchell's Brazilian collections; to Colonel Munro, C.B., for naming and arranging many collections of grasses; to Professor Mettenius, of Leipzig, who has undertaken the Indian ferns; and to Mr. J. G. Baker, who has gratuitously arranged and named the mosses, lichens, &c. of Borrer's valuable Herbarium.

(signed) J. D. HOOKER, Director.

To the Right Honourable the First Commissioner of Her Majesty's Works and Buildings.

Sir,

Her Majesty's Stationery Office, 30 December 1865.

I HAVE the honour to send herewith, for the information of the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury, an Estimate of the sums that will probably be required to defray the expenditure of this Office for the public service during the ensuing official year 1866-67.

This Estimate amounts to 357,087 £, and is 16,600 £ in excess of the sum granted for the regular expenses of the current year, but 8,300 £ less than the entire sum voted by Parliament, inasmuch as last year I was under the necessity of asking for 25,000 £ in order to make good deficiencies in previous Estimates.

There is an increase, though a moderate one, under nearly every head. This is rendered necessary in consequence of the gradual swelling of all items of expense attributable to the augmentation constantly observable, and probably inevitable, in all branches of the public service, as the business of the country increases. This must be expected to recur year by year, and cannot be prevented, though it may be moderated, by any vigilance.

Another cause of this general increase in the sums required is the tendency of the several departments to wish for paper of a heavier, and therefore a more costly, character,—a tendency which I endeavour to check as far as possible, but for which, in some cases, adequate reasons are alleged, and which, therefore, must in such cases be yielded to. Thus, the Post Office now require largely increased quantities of 16 lbs. paper for copying presses; the War Office and the Horse Guards are now asking for 16 lbs. paper, where 14 lbs. formerly sufficed; and latterly the Treasury itself has made two advances in the same direction.

The departments on account of which I have had materially to increase my Estimate over that of last year, for other and more special reasons than those just specified, are the following:—

War Office	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	£. 1,700
Admiralty	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	2,500
Foreign Office	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	950
Council Office	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	1,500
Law Departments	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	1,000
Parliamentary Printing	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	3,000
Stationery Office Publications	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	3,500

To begin with the largest of these instances of augmented Estimates. I found last year that the annual expense incurred for Stationery Office Publications had, between 1861 and 1864, gradually fallen from 15,200 £ to 8,800 £, a diminution which appeared to warrant a considerably reduced Estimate, and I accordingly only asked for 8,500 £. But the expenditure has been much larger than I had reason to anticipate; and I have also had to provide for the cost of printing the old Acts of the Scotch Parliament, and the Chronicles and State Papers of that kingdom, as authorised by Treasury Letters of 17th April and 29th ultimo.

Stationery Office Publications.

The amount of expenditure under this head can of course never be accurately known beforehand. Last year I ventured to confine my demand to a sum less by 4,500 £. than that of the previous year, viz. 63,000 £; and I find that our actual expenditure will, as nearly as possible, bear out the justice of my Estimate. But as the first Session of a new Parliament usually involves considerable outlay for Commissions of Inquiry and Election Committees, and as the number of pages now in type for Reports of Temporary Commissions, &c., is 50 per cent. greater than at the same time last year, I have not thought it safe to ask for less than 66,000 £ for 1866-67.

Parliamentary Printing.

The increase required for the War Office is rendered necessary by what may be described as great activity in the work of internal reform; the various Committees engaged in investigating and improving different branches of the department causing a largely augmented outlay in paper and printing. A nearly similar explanation will apply to the Admiralty, where the new system of accounts has rendered it necessary to provide a vast quantity of fresh and often costly books.

War Office. Admiralty.

Much of the increase in this department is due to the acceleration of the publication of the State Papers, two volumes of which, instead of one as formerly, are now to be issued every year. The cost of printing the bulletins is also for the future to be charged to the Foreign Office, instead of, as hitherto, to the "London Gazette" account.

Foreign Office.

The main portion of the increase demanded for this department is attributable to the amount of business thrown upon it by the Cattle Plague, which involves a great expenditure for printing, and a consequent outlay for paper.

Council Office.

The chief cause of the enlarged Estimate under this head is the apparently steadily and largely increasing business of the Court of Probate.

Legal Departments.

To set against the increases required under the several heads specified,—the aggregate of which amounts to nearly 19,000*l.*, viz. :—

War Departments	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	£. 1,705
Admiralty	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	2,500
Foreign Office	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	950
Council Office, Science and Art, and Veterinary Department	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	1,500
Board of Trade	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	615
Legal Departments	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	956
Registrars General	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	1,000
Convict Services	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	725
Temporary Commissions	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	620
Miscellaneous	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	1,856
Parliamentary Printing	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	3,000
Stationery Office Publications	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	3,500
									£. 18,927

—the only reduction I have to mention is for the Patent Office, on account of which I can venture to ask for 2,500*l.* less than last year. It is understood that the outlay for the library of that office, which for some years was very large, is not in future to exceed 800*l.* a year, unless by special authority.

I am inclined to believe that in the consumption of what are called “small stores,”—or pens, ink, paper, despatch boxes, sealing-wax, tape, &c., and “annuals,” such as Post Office Directories, Court Guides, Imperial Calendars, &c.—a considerable economy might be effected if the heads of each branch and sub-branch of the various offices were as vigilant as they might be in the matter. I am led to this conclusion by observing how much smaller is the consumption of these articles in some departments than in others, as will be seen by the following statement. The Customs, the Home Office, and the Poor Law Board seem to be peculiarly meritorious in this respect.

	Number of Persons.	Cost of Small Stores.

* N.B. Portions of these sums, viz. 216*l.* for the Foreign Office, and 121 l. for the Colonial Office, were spent on despatch bags, articles in use only in these two departments.

I annex the Balance Sheet of the net and real, as contrasted with the gross and apparent expenses of this department for the year 1864-65. I explained the object of this statement so fully in my letter of last December, which was attached to the Estimate laid before Parliament, that I need do no more than refer to that document.

I have, &c.

NOTES explanatory of the ESTIMATE for PUBLIC EDUCATION in the Financial Year 1866-7.

The Estimate provides for Elementary Schools, Normal Schools, and Administration. Annual grants to Elementary Schools are estimated in Scotland according to the Code of 1860: in England and Wales according to the Revised Code (1866); grants for Pensions (formerly awarded, no new ones allowed under Revised Code), grants to build Elementary Schools, grants to maintain Normal Schools, and the cost of Administration, are estimated for Great Britain.

(1.) By a Minute dated 11 May 1865, the Revised Code, so far as payments to elementary schools in Scotland are concerned, was suspended until 30 June 1867, to allow time for receiving and considering the Report of a Royal Commission appointed to inquire into Education in that part of Great Britain. But, although the payments have continued to be made according to the Code of 1860, the inspection and examination of schools in Scotland have been conducted since 31 March 1864 according to the Revised Code. The number of day scholars, above six years of age, individually examined in *Scotland, under the Revised Code, in the year ending 31 August 1865, was 96,432, out of 159,010, the average number attending the schools visited, or 60·65 per cent. Besides the 96,432 day scholars examined individually, there were present at inspection 11,179 day scholars under six years of age. All per-centages relative to the examination of day scholars under the standards are calculated on the 96,432 examined. The number of night scholars, each of whom is more than 12 years of age, individually examined out of 1,806 attending, was 731, or 40·48 per cent. The per-centage of failures was per cent. in—

Out of the whole number (day and night scholars) 97,163 examined, in the year ending 31 August 1865, 40,950 were over 10 years of age, and were presented for examination as follows:—

The result, for the year 1864-65, may be thus stated:—The per-centage of children over 10 to those over 6 years of age was 41·71 upon the whole number examined; but the children who, being over 10 years of age, were presented for examination above Standard III, was only 21·07 per cent, and who passed without failure only 13·69 per cent, of the whole number examined; i. e., only one-third passed without failure under the three Standards IV—VI. of those who, according to age, ought to have passed under Standard VI alone.

(2.) The estimate of 916,722 day scholars, at 9s. 1d. each, as the provision to be made for elementary schools in England and Wales, in the financial year 1866-7, is arrived at as follows:—

The number 916,722 is the corrected average number in attendance at aided elementary schools in England and Wales, for which payments will be made in the year ending 31 March 1867, and is based on the number 862,291, being the actual average number in attendance in such schools in the year ending 31 December 1865, with 5 per cent. allowed thereon for increase up to 31 December 1866 (= 43,114), and 5 per cent. for the three remaining months upon (862,291 + 43,114 =) 905,405, bringing up the total to 916,722. The actual rate of grant per head in the two years ending 31 August 1865, has remained 9s. upon the average number in attendance, against 8s. 1d. in 1863 (Report, 1863-4, p. xv). The rate of 9s. 1d. on 916,722 scholars allows for improvement.

The examination of night scholars has been facilitated by Articles 132-149 of the Code (1865). The night schools offered for examination in the year ending 31 August 1864 were attended (on an average) by 25,981 scholars, while the night schools offered for examination in the year ending 31 August 1865 were attended by 33,904 scholars; increase = 30 per cent. The expenditure in the year ending 31 December 1865 was 9,820*l.* 19*s.* 9*d.*; in 1864 it was only 6,621*l.* Trustworthy data for this estimate can be but slowly ascertained.

(3.) The grants for building continue to be checked by the unsettled question of the Conscience Clause. See Reports of the Committee of Council on Education, 1863-4, p. xiv, and 1864-5, p. xxv; also, Correspondence between the Committee of Council on Education and the National School Society, presented to both Houses of Parliament in the Session of 1864.

(4.) The estimate for Training Colleges is based on a mode of payment noticed in the estimate 1864-5, as follows:—

"We have provided for the gradual introduction of a plan whereby each college will be paid for those only of its students who are fairly launched in their profession as teachers. The principle of our Minute is shortly this; we assume 100*l.* to represent the cost of training a male, and 70*l.* that of training a female student during two years; and we grant to the college five annual payments of 20*l.* for each of its male, and 14*l.* for each of its female students, who, after probationary service as a teacher, obtains one of our certificates. We limit the total amount of our grant to 75 per cent. of the approved expenditure; and we also make it dependent upon the number of students for the time being in residence."

(5.) The number of members of the permanent establishment (see p. 10) has not been increased beyond the estimate of last year, except by provision for the appointment of two inspectors.

* The corresponding particulars for England and Wales are given at page 6.

NOTES on the TABLE of EXPENDITURE (A.) in p. 6.

1. The whole of the expenditure under this head, with the exception of pensions, is confined to Scotland, and has been made under the heads of the Code of 1860. (See Notes on Estimate, supra, p. 4.)

2. The number of day scholars above six years of age, individually examined in *England and Wales under the Revised Code, in the year ending 31 August 1865, was 561,326, out of 849,044, the average number attending the schools visited, or 66·19 per cent. Besides the 561,326 day scholars examined individually, grants were allowed, without individual examination, on 146,660 day scholars under six years of age. All per-centages relative to the examination of day scholars under the standards are calculated on 561,326. The number of night scholars, each of whom is more than 12 years of age, individually examined, out of 33,904 attending, was 23,860, or 70·38 per cent.

The per-centage of failures was per cent. in

The result, as to the day scholars, for the year 1864-5, may be thus stated:—The per-centage of children over 10 to those over 6 years of age was 39·82 upon the whole number examined; but the children who, being over 10 years of age, were also presented for examination above Standard III. was only 19·77 per cent., and who passed without failure above standard III. only 12·96 per cent. of the whole number examined. In round numbers, where 40, according to age, ought to have been presented, and to have passed, under Standard VI. alone, the actual presentations, and passes, in the three Standards IV. V. and VI. taken together, are as follows:—

In 1863	-	-	-	-	presented	14	-	-	-	-	passed	10

3. The Grants for building, enlarging, or improving the fabrics of Elementary Schools amounted to 18,882*l.* 16*s.*, the sum voluntarily subscribed to 62,247*l.* 0*s.* 10*d.*; the number of schools built, 65; enlarged or improved, 46; teachers' residences built, 46; the number of children for whom additional accommodation in school has been provided, 15,302. The amount of outstanding liabilities for Building Grants awarded, but not yet claimed, is 27,624*l.* 18*s.* 6*d.*; a period of 18 months is allowed from the date of the award for claiming payment. The latter sum is exclusive of Grants to be awarded, and of which payment may be claimed, within the year 1863-64.

The reasons which led to a decrease in the distribution of the Grant for Building in 1863 and 1864 (see Note 3 on page 5, supra), have continued to operate during 1865.

The total number of Students in Training Colleges at the end of 1865 was 2,482.

5 and 6. The organization of the establishment is founded (with certain modifications approved by the Lords of the Treasury) upon the Report of the Committees of Inquiry on Public Offices, presented (1854) to both Houses of Parliament, pp. 230-243.

The total number of Elementary Day Schools visited by Her Majesty's Inspectors during 1865 was 3,434, and School-rooms under separate teachers, 12,950. They found present 1,246,055 children; the number found present in 1864 was 1,133,291; increase, 112,764.

SUMS required for the Science and Art Department, for the Year ending 31 March 1867—contd.

(B.) The number of Visitors to the Museum during the year 1865 has been, in the morning, 444,803, and in the evening, 248,151, giving a total of 692,954 persons. Since the opening of the Museum, from 22 June 1857 to 31 December 1865, it has been visited by 5,729,497 persons. The annual average, excluding 1862, the year of the Exhibition, has been 602,834.

The receipts from the public frequenting the South Kensington Museum during the year 1865 have amounted to 1,204*l.* 1*s.*, which have been paid to the Exchequer.

(B. I.) The Metropolitan Police Force has the entire charge of watching the Museum, both internally and externally. The Museum and Schools are lighted from sunset till 10 p.m.: and great precautions against fire are necessary. The numbers attending the Museum in the evening, since the opening in 1857, have been 2,210,535.

(B. II. 1 & 2.) These purchases are supplementary, a large number of the books and objects in the collections being presented to the nation by the public. 2. The collections of Naval Architecture have been lately transferred from Somerset House for the use of the Students of the School of Naval Architecture, and the inspection of the public. Numerous additions have been made by private shipbuilders.

(B. II. 3. a. c.) Objects are circulated, as far as practicable, to local Art schools.

(B. II. d.) The number of Loans received from private individuals in 1865 was of the value of several hundred thousand pounds. The names of the lenders, &c. are given in the Annual Report.

(B. II. 4.) The Art Library was attended by 10,719 persons in 1865, and fees, at the rate of 6*d.* a week, amounted to 90*l.* 1*s.*, paid to the Exchequer.

The books, &c. are also circulated to the local Schools of Art under proper regulations. 18 Schools borrowed Books in 1865.

(B. III.) A printed Catalogue of the printed works of all countries relating to the Fine Arts from the invention of printing up to the year 1865, is in course of preparation. The receipts for Catalogues sold in the South Kensington Museum, during the year 1865, have amounted to 71*l.* 0*s.* 2*d.* This sum has been paid to the Exchequer.

(B. IV.) Every object in the Museum is labelled: 6,332 labels were written or printed in 1865.

(B. V.) The estimate for Furniture and Fittings is now brought under this heading for the first time having been last year taken in one amount with other services transferred from the Estimates of the Office, of Works.

(B. VI.) The cost of Gas, Water, and Fuel, which is estimated at 4,600*l.*, formed part of the sum of 10,000*l.* transferred last year from the Office of Works Estimates, and now brought under its proper head of service for the first time.

(C.) This Exhibition will probably extend over three seasons, opening in April and closing in August. The Exhibition will be held in the Upper Arcades overlooking the Royal Horticultural Gardens, which have been prepared and heated. It will be made as self-supporting as possible. This Exhibition is based upon the suggestions made by the Earl of Derby in a letter dated 6th May 1865, from which the following extracts are made:—

“I have long thought that a National Portrait Exhibition, chronologically arranged, might not only possess great historical interest by bringing together portraits of all the most eminent contemporaries of their respective eras, but might also serve to illustrate the progress and condition, at various periods, of British Art. My idea, therefore, would be to admit either portraits of eminent men, though by inferior or unknown artists, or portraits by eminent artists, though of obscure or unknown individuals. I have, of course, no means of knowing, or estimating, the number of such portraits which may exist in the country; but I am persuaded that, exclusive of the large collections in many great houses, there are very many scattered about by ones and twos and threes in private families, the owners of which, though they could not be persuaded to part with them, would willingly spare them for a few months for a public object.”

“The question of one, two, or three exhibitions in consecutive years, would, I apprehend, be mainly decided by the result of future inquiries as to the probable number of pictures which could be obtained, and the space which could be found for their exhibition. But whether the period over which each exhibition (if more than one) should range, be longer or shorter, the point on which I should set the greatest value, in an historical, if not in an artistic point of view, would be the strict maintenance of the chronological series. I shall be very happy if any suggestion of mine should lead the Committee of Council to take up seriously, and carry out, with such alterations of detail as experience might suggest, a scheme which I think could hardly fail of being generally interesting; and I should have much pleasure in placing temporarily at their disposal any portraits from my collection at Knowsley which they might think suitable for their purpose.”

(D.) The general Plans and Estimates of the new permanent buildings were submitted to the Select Committee on the South Kensington Museum in 1860, and a plan showing the progress of the works was given in the Annual Report for 1863-4. A revised plan and estimate have been submitted to the Treasury.

† During the year 1865, 1,191 square miles have been surveyed in England, 332 in Scotland, and 1,037 in Ireland.
‡ Sir R. Murchison computed in 1860 that with the present staff of surveyors the geological survey of England, as regards the publication of maps on the 1-inch scale, would be completed in from 15 to 20 years; of Scotland, in about 32 years; and of Ireland, in about 25 years; but for reasons given in his annual report, he now thinks the time will be longer.

CHILDREN'S EMPLOYMENT COMMISSION.

Sir,

2, Victoria-street, 11 December 1865.

I AM instructed by the Commissioners to acknowledge your letter of the 9th instant, stating that you are directed by Secretary Sir George Grey to request that I will prepare and transmit to you an estimate of the sum which will be required to defray all the expenses of the Children's Employment Commission from its commencement to its termination, distinguishing the amount which is required to be voted during the ensuing Session of Parliament, accompanied by a statement of the progress the Commissioners have made in the inquiry entrusted to them, and of the probable time it will take to complete the inquiry.

I am directed to state, for the information of Secretary Sir George Grey, that the Commissioners have nearly completed the inquiry entrusted to them. They presented their first Report on the 15th June 1863, their second and third Reports on the 26th July 1864, and their fourth Report on the 28th June last. These four Reports included the following manufactures—

Pottery.
 Paper hanging.
 Lucifer matches.
 Percussion caps.
 Hosiery.
 Lace.
 Straw plait.
 Paper tubes and spools.
 Wearing apparel, including millinery, &c.
 Iron works in South Staffordshire and Worcestershire, and blast furnaces, iron mills and forges in other parts of the kingdom.
 The metal manufactures of the Birmingham district and of the Wolverhampton district.
 The miscellaneous metal manufactures of Lancashire.
 The metal manufactures of the Sheffield district.
 Iron shipbuilding and engineers' works.
 Foundries and machine shops in Leeds and the West Riding.
 Letter foundries in London.
 The trades of hooking and finishing, fustian cutting, and hand-loom weaving.
 A report on the violation of the law respecting the employment of climbing boys.
 Hand-loom carpet weaving.
 Heald knitting.
 The tobacco manufacture.
 The Stroud manufacture of umbrella and parasol handles.
 The bobbin manufacture.
 India-rubber works.
 Artificial flower and ostrich feather making.
 The trades of bootmakers, tailors, hatters and glovers.
 And, the manufacture of paper and of glass.

I have further to state that the Commissioners hope to present their Fifth Report soon after the meeting of Parliament. That Report will include brickmaking, ropemaking, and a few other miscellaneous trades which have been lately investigated by the Assistant Commissioners, whose Reports are nearly completed.

Mr. H. N. Lord has signified to the Commissioners his wish to resign the office of an Assistant Commissioner as soon as he shall have completed his Reports just referred to. The Commissioners instruct me to state that although they regret the loss of so able and industrious an assistant as Mr. Lord, they do not consider it necessary to ask that his place may be supplied. When the Fifth Report has been completed, the only subject remaining for investigation will be that of agricultural gangs, which the Commissioners were instructed to inquire into and report upon by a letter from Secretary Sir George Grey on the 22d May last. Mr. White and Mr. Longe have already made considerable progress in that inquiry, and will be able to complete it without assistance as soon as the resumption of field work in the spring enables them to resume their inquiries in the districts where the system is found in operation. The Commissioners anticipate that the inquiry will occupy a large part of the spring and early summer. The Commissioners desire me further to state that the amount which will be required to be voted during the ensuing Session of Parliament will be about 1,300*l*. This estimate is to some extent conjectural, because a large proportion of the expenditure of the Commission consists of the travelling and personal expenses of the Assistant Commissioners; but the Commissioners anticipate that the above estimate will be found nearly accurate. Should this anticipation be correct, the total expense of this Commission from its commencement to its termination will be about 8,800 l. And I am to state that the Commissioners believe that they will be able to complete the inquiry entrusted to them, and present their final Report to Her Majesty, in the course of the ensuing summer, if not before the close of the Session.

I have, &c.

SCOTCH EDUCATION COMMISSION.

Sir,

51, Queen-street, Edinburgh, 30 December 1865.

IN reply to your letter dated the 9th of December, I beg leave to transmit to you, for the information of Secretary Sir George Grey, the following Estimate.

According to the estimate already submitted, the sum of 4,450 l. will be required to meet the expenses of the Commission until the beginning of next Session.

In addition to this sum of 4,450 l., the amount required to be voted during the ensuing Session will be 3,910 l., distributed as follows:—

	£.	s.	d.
Salaries of Secretary, Clerk, and Messenger - - - -	800	-	-
Expense of Offices - - - - -	120	-	-
Short-hand Writer, and Expenses of Commissioners - - -	390	-	-
Travelling Expenses of Secretary, Commissioners, and Witnesses	200	-	-
Porterage and Cabs - - - - -	200	-	-
Tabulating Statistics and extra Clerks - - - - -	600	-	-
Assistant Commissioners - - - - -	1,000	-	-
Clerks, and Travelling Expenses of seven Assistant Commissioners	600	-	-
	£. 3,910	-	-

The Commissioners have already presented to Parliament their first Report, containing the oral evidence of many witnesses. Statistics and other information with respect to all the schools in the rural districts, and in many of the towns of Scotland, have been collected and printed, and the Commissioners have also collected and printed a considerable amount of written evidence.

With the exception of Glasgow, comprising a population of 400,000, which has been investigated by two Assistant Commissioners, the state of education in all the other large towns is still to be investigated.

Besides this extensive field of inquiry, the state of the Burgh and Middle Class Schools of Scotland are still unexplored.

Under these circumstances it is impossible to anticipate when the inquiry with which Her Majesty has charged the Commissioners will be concluded, but it is by no means likely that this can be accomplished and the Report presented to Her Majesty before the end of next year (1866).

H. Waddington, Esq.,
Home Office, Whitehall.

I am, &c.

(4.)

SCHOOLS INQUIRY COMMISSION.

Sir,

11 January 1866.

IN reply to your letter of the 9th ultimo, I have to state to you, for the information of Secretary Sir George Grey, that this Commission was appointed on the 28th December 1864, and that the first meeting was held on the 24th January 1865. The Commissioners have held 45 meetings, and have taken the evidence of 80 witnesses, but have a considerable number still to examine. They have issued circulars of questions to 845 Endowed Schools, to 157 Proprietary Schools, and about 3,000 Private Schools, and have already received a very large number of answers. They have also sent eight Assistant Commissioners to make an investigation into the state and prospects of the education of the middle and upper classes in certain selected districts, comprising about one-third of the area, and more than one-half of the population of England and Wales; one Assistant Commissioner to parts of the Continent of Europe, and one to North America. The reports on the results of these investigations are expected shortly, but it is possible that some some of the Assistant Commissioners may require a short extension of the time now assigned them.

The Commissioners have also determined to send Assistant Commissioners to make a special inquiry into the Endowed Schools (over 400 in number), founded as Grammar Schools, which are not included in the districts of which a general investigation has already been made.

The field of their whole inquiry is so large that I am unable as yet to form a trustworthy estimate of the time at which the Commissioners will have ended their task, and consequently of its total expenses.

The expense for the year 1865 has been about 200 l. less than that stated in the estimate which I sent last year.

I annex an estimate of the expenses for the year 1866.

H. Waddington, Esq.,
Home Office.

I am, &c.
(signed) Henry J. Roby, Secretary.

RIVERS COMMISSION.

Sir, 2, Victoria-street, Westminster, 18 December 1865.

In reply to your letter of the 9th instant I have the honour to send you, on the accompanying sheet,—

(1.) A statement of the actual expenses of the Rivers Commission, from the 15th of June to Christmas 1865.

(2.) An estimate of the probable annual expenditure of the Commission.

With regard to both of the accounts I beg to make the following observations:—

1. Neither account includes the salary or travelling expenses of the Chief Commissioner, Robert Rawlinson, Esq., C. B., who continues to receive his salary from, and to account to, the Local Government Act Office.*

2. Neither account includes the cost of printing the evidence, which work is being superintended by the Comptroller of Her Majesty's Stationery.

3. Neither account includes the expense of the offices provided for the Commission by Her Majesty's Board of Works.

The statement of the actual expenses of the Commission during the first half-year of its existence is no accurate criterion of the future expenditure. For that statement does not include the cost of shorthand writers' notes, a very heavy item, Messrs. Gurney & Co. not having yet delivered their bills. Moreover, looking forward the Commissioners cannot but anticipate anticipate a large increase of expenditure, arising partly from more numerous public inquiries carried on at a greater distance from town, and partly from the chemical work which will be necessary.

With regard to the estimate of the future annual expenditure of the Commission, each item has been purposely set high; and if Parliament in the ensuing Session grant a Vote of 7,000 £., the Commissioners are confident that the sum total of their expenditure for next year will not exceed that amount; it may be considerably less.

As to the particular item of 1,000 £. for chemical analysis:—Up to the present time the Commissioners, having been engaged exclusively with the Thames, have not found it necessary to resort to chemical analysis. But next year, when they visit the Yorkshire and Lancashire rivers, whose waters are affected with solid and liquid refuse from all sorts of manufactories, dye-works and bleach-works, chemical analysis, to a considerable extent, will be unavoidable.

With regard to the duration of the Commission, this is a matter upon which the Commissioners find it impossible at this early stage to pronounce any certain opinion.

I am unable, therefore, to supply you with an Estimate of the sum which will be required to defray all the expenses of the Rivers Commission from its commencement to its termination.

The Commissioners have visited Croydon, Worthing, Cheltenham, Carlisle, and Edinburgh, to observe the methods of sewage irrigation there carried on. They have nearly completed the investigation of the River Thames by personal examination of its course, and by the holding of public inquiries at Oxford, Reading, Windsor, Kingston, and Richmond. They hope to make their report on the Thames early in next year, and then to proceed to the rivers of the north.

In conclusion, the Commissioners desire me to assure you that they bear in mind their duty to keep the expenditure of the Commission within the strictest limits, and to bring their work as soon as possible to a completion.

I am, &c.
(signed) Godfrey Lushington.

COURTS OF JUSTICE COMMISSION.

Sir,

13 December 1865.

IN answer to your letter of the 9th instant, I beg to inform you that my estimate of the sum required to defray the expenses of this Commission to the 31st March 1866, and, further, the expenses of the year from the 1st April 1866 to the 31st March 1867, is as follows:—

Salaries of Officers already approved by the Treasury, or now waiting for approval, to 31st March 1866, about	-	400	-
Disbursements for occasional Assistance, Draughtsmen, Copying, Postages, &c. during the same period, about	-	100	-

TOTAL of Salaries and Disbursements to March 1866 - - £. 500 - -

	£.	s.	d.
Salaries as above, from 1st April 1866 to 31st March 1867	-	950	-
Disbursements as above, for same period	-	250	-
About	-	£. 1,200	-

If additional assistance is required the above amount will, of course, be exceeded.

In answer to the other questions in your letter, I beg to state that the Commissioners have obtained from most of the Courts and Offices to be accommodated in the new buildings requisitions showing the space they require. From these requisitions the architectural clerk is now drawing up, under the direction of the Commissioners, tables and statements which will be pretty nearly the instructions to be ultimately given to the architect who may be appointed to prepare the plans.

The Commissioners have also formed their own conclusions on most of the questions of bridges approaches, &c.

In the present state of affairs it is impossible to estimate the length of time over which the business of the Commission will extend.

I myself apprehend that it must be kept on foot till the new Courts are completed; as a mere guess, however, I should say it will certainly be on foot for five years.

I have, &c.

MARRIAGE LAWS COMMISSION.

32 Abingdon-street, Westminster,
13 January 1866.

Sir,

By your letter of the 9th December you ask me to "transmit to you an estimate of the sum which will be required to defray all the expenses of the Marriage Laws Commission from its commencement to its termination."

After having made every endeavour to arrive at some safe conclusion on the subject, I find myself wholly unable, at this stage, to give any definite or satisfactory answer to your inquiry.

You, in the second place, desire me to "distinguish the amount which will require to be voted during the next Session of Parliament for the business of the Commission."

I beg therefore to enclose a twofold Estimate in detail of the sums which, according to the best judgment I am able to form, will require to be voted during the ensuing Session of Parliament.

The Estimate No. I. applies to the period from the commencement of the inquiry (namely, on the 31st March 1865) to the 31st March 1866; and shows that the sum which will require to be voted to defray the expense of the Marriage Laws Commission during that period must not be less than 1,004*l.* 1*s.* 2*d.*

The Estimate No. II. applies to the period from the 31st March 1866 to the 31st March 1867; and shows that the sum which will require to be voted to defray the expenses of the Marriage Laws Commission during that period must not be less than 1,000*l.*

In the third place, you desire a statement from me of "the progress the Commissioners have made in the inquiry entrusted to them."

0.6—VII.

The

The first step taken by the Commissioners was to obtain from competent authorities statements of the very different Marriage Laws which prevail in England, Scotland, and Ireland respectively; the second step was to elicit the opinions entertained in various parts of the three kingdoms with respect to the practical working of the laws in question, the defects and blemishes mainly complained of, and the remedies proposed. Much important information has been collected in the shape of communications from bishops and other distinguished clergymen of the Established Church and of the Roman Catholic Church, and from the ministers of religion of the Presbyterian and Dissenting bodies throughout the kingdom; and also from lay officials and other individuals to whom it was deemed proper and expedient to apply. The Commissioners have held several meetings to consider those communications, and to give directions for the further prosecution of the inquiry. They have also resolved to commence early in the ensuing month the examination of witnesses orally, some lay individuals of distinction and some dignitaries of the Church having expressed their desire to deliver their opinions in that form rather than by correspondence.

The Commissioners expressed a desire to know the working of the Code Napoléon with reference to marriages, especially in Roman Catholic countries. Through the kindness of Sir George Grey, I myself, as Secretary to the Commission, having been introduced to the Embassies at Paris and Brussels, was enabled to procure the required information as to the mode of marrying in France, Belgium, Holland, Italy, and Portugal; and the same has been printed and submitted to the Commissioners.

The Commissioners intend to enter forthwith upon the consideration of the laws which relate to the marriages of European British subjects in India and in the Colonies, and likewise to examine such of the laws of the United Kingdom as govern the marriages of British subjects in foreign countries.

The last point with reference to which you direct me to transmit information is as to the "probable time it will take to complete the inquiry." To this my reply is, that I am at present wholly unable to form any conjecture on the subject.

House of Lords, Westminster, S. W.
23 January 1866.

Sir,

IN compliance with the request made to me by Mr. Macgregor, I beg leave to forward you on the other side, an Estimate of the probable expenses of this Commission for the ensuing year.

At the same time it is right I should say that it is so uncertain what course the proceedings of the Commission may take, that it is impossible to make such an Estimate with any pretension to accuracy.

£. 21,610 was surrendered to the Exchequer as a saving in 1863-4.
2. Amount of Vote 194,923 £.
3. Amount of Vote 61,133 £.
£. 10,000 was surrendered as a saving in 1863-4.

EXPLANATIONS—continued.

5. Amount of Vote 26,380 l.

l. 25,510 was surrendered as a saving in 1863-4.

6, 8, 9, 11, 12, 13, 14. These deficiencies arise from the change in the terms of the Civil Service Votes made in 1862-3. Formerly the Votes were applied to reimburse the Treasury Chest, &c., the amount of claims which came for settlement in the year. The Vote being now for the sums coming in course of actual payment in the year, it is necessary to make provision, otherwise than under the Vote of the current year, for the unliquidated claims of the Treasury Chest for past years. These items are to make good such claims up to 31st March 1865. Of the Vote for Services in China, &c., 23,000 l. was surrendered as a saving in 1864-5, and of that for Superannuations 57,000 l. was surrendered in the preceding year.

7. Amount of Vote, 7,184 l.

10. The Votes have been to make good deficiencies in the Colonial Revenues, which deficiencies have been greater than were expected. They have accumulated as Debts to the Treasury Chest and the Colonial Agents, which, for the reasons stated in connection with Convict Services, &c., should be adjusted. Particulars of these debts are shown in the annexed Schedule.

15. This is a Re-vote of a sum surrendered owing to a delay in claiming the Vote.

16 and 17. The practice has been to repay to the Customs Department out of the Vote of each year the Payments made up to the 31st December preceding the close of the financial year. Another quarter's payments have now to be provided for.
